

EAST FOYER

Ann Getty

Not only did designer Ann Getty serve as Honorary Chairperson of Greystone's show house but she also contributed to its decorative aesthetic by sharing her view of how the vast hall of a great eighteenth-century English country house would appear. In the East Foyer, a Chippendale Breakfront from the Ann Getty House Collection establishes a tenor of formality. A group of chairs from the collection faithful to the period is balanced by the neoclassical sensibilities of the desk. As an assemblage, it pays homage to Greystone's formidable architectural heritage.
